Kilpatrick

Insights: Publications

Writing About Real People

Authors Alliance · No. 6

DECEMBER 1, 2023

Nonfiction authors often research and write about real people: real people feature in memoirs, writing about real people can be daunting for authors. Subjects may be unhappy with how they are portrayed or even that they are portrayed at all. Authors who write about real people may worry that their subjects could threaten a lawsuit or even sue based on those subjects' portrayals.
