The law is global, touching every person in every country in some way, shape or form. It's a fact that Alexander Mallory knows well. The alum of the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law at Arizona State University ('19 JD) will head to Luxembourg this fall as a stagiaire, or clerk, for the European Court of Justice with Judge Paul Nihoul. The position is part of the Dean Acheson Legal Stage Program, organized by the U.S. Embassy in Luxembourg and created to foster mutual understanding between the U.S. and the European Union in the area of law.
