Kilpatrick's Strategy Seeks to Build on IP Success to Keep Growing Corporate Work

Daily Report

January 26, 2024

Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton, leveraging its traditional strength in intellectual property services, is on a mission to build its transactional practice for more work in technology deals and middle-market private equity.

Ben Barkley, Atlanta-based head of Kilpatrick's corporate department, said the actions are part of adding depth to a firm practice that has seen growth in M&A, private equity and tech work, even in a relatively slower deal market in 2023.
