Kilpatrick Adds Prominent Litigator in Denver

November 6, 2025

DENVER (November 6) – Kilpatrick announced today the addition of Craig Schuenemann, Counsel, to its Complex Commercial Litigation Team. Mr. Schuenemann comes to Kilpatrick from Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner LLP. He joined the Firm on October 27.

“We welcome Craig to Kilpatrick,” said Justin Krieger, Managing Partner of the Firm’s Denver office. “Craig’s national practice will benefit Firm clients throughout the Rocky Mountain region. This strategic addition enhances the depth to our litigation bench in the growing Denver office.”

Mr. Schuenemann has 15+ years of experience representing commercial entities in complex litigation of tort, breach of contract, and construction actions. He also brings an extensive background working on a wide range of financial services litigation matters, including the recovery of collateral, enforcement of guarantees, and defense of wrongful foreclosure claims. Mr. Schuenemann represents national banks, real estate investment entities, energy companies and corporations in proceedings before federal bankruptcy courts. He has expertise representing secured creditors in all aspects of the bankruptcy process, and frequently counsels clients on receiverships, workouts, and distressed transactions.

Early in his career, Mr. Schuenemann clerked for the Honorable Charles Weller in Nevada’s Second Judicial District. He currently serves as a state court judge in Colorado.

While in law school, Mr. Schuenemann continued his service as an active-duty naval officer at the Pentagon where he served as the military assistant to the General Counsel of the Navy. Before law school, he was an active duty officer in the United States Navy where he deployed overseas as a helicopter pilot numerous times, including an eight-month deployment supporting combat operations in Iraq.

Mr. Schuenemann graduated from the United States Naval Academy and earned his J.D. from George Washington University.
