

Insights: Publications

Proposed IRS Hardship Distribution Regulations Change Standard for Determination

HR Daily Advisor

November 29, 2018

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has proposed regulations that would change the rules for hardship distributions from 401(k) and 403(b) retirement plans by replacing the facts-and-circumstances test for determining hardship eligibility with a three-part general standard.