

Insights: News

Gary Bronstein Quoted in S&P Global Market Intelligence re: "Banks Increasingly Look to Noninterest Income to Bolster Revenue"

S&P Global Market Intelligence

June 8, 2022

Larger banks have an advantage compared to smaller banks in generating fee income because of their scale, Gary Bronstein, a partner on the financial services team at the law firm Kilpatrick Townsend and Stockton, said in an interview. Investment banking, wealth management, financial technology and cryptocurrency are areas where banks have generated significant levels of fee income, Bronstein said.

Related People

Gary R. Bronstein

Washington, DC

t 202.508.5893

gbronstein@ktslaw.com