

Insights: Publications

Three Employer Considerations in Light of DOL Proposed OT Rule

Law360

September 18, 2023

Written by

As many employers are aware, on Aug. 30, the U.S. Department of Labor announced a notice of proposed rulemaking regarding overtime eligibility.

The proposed rule would increase the salary threshold for the overtime exemption for bona fide executive, administrative and professional employees.

To read the full article, click here.