Jessica Dam focuses her practice on business and finance, mergers and acquisitions, and securities.

While attending Northwestern Pritzker School of Law, Jessica worked with the firm as a corporate summer associate in 2025, where she collaborated with partners and associates on M&A deals and other corporate matters. She served as a legal extern at Shirley Ryan AbilityLab, a not-for-profit rehabilitation research hospital in Chicago, Illinois and was also a legal intern at Legal Council for Health Justice in Chicago where she drafted a brief to appeal the Social Security Administration's denial of a client's application for disability benefits.

While attending Emory University, Jessica co-founded Emory's Remote Area Medical chapter, a student-led chapter of the national Remote Area Medical (RAM) nonprofit, where she helped to provide free dental, vision, and medical care services to communities in Georgia and Tennessee.

Jessica is proficient in Spanish and has basic knowledge of Farsi.
