Catastrophic Injury

Crisis Recovery

A catastrophic injury is a life-changing event with far-reaching effects. For more than 40 years, Kilpatrick has compassionately helped numerous individuals and families of individuals impacted by egregious behavior leading to catastrophic injury or death. Nationally recognized as a premiere legal provider to burn victims and victims of other traumatic injuries, we represent clients and their families in a multitude of cases involving personal injury, wrongful death, and products liability claims in both federal and state courts. Our geographically diverse team includes highly-experienced in-house investigators, and our experts hail from some of the most respected universities in the country.
