Insights: News Releases

Stephen Mao Joins Software and Electrical Engineering Team in Silicon Valley

January 21, 2015

SILICON VALLEY (January 21) – Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton announced today the addition of Stephen Mao to the firm's Silicon Valley office. Mr. Mao joins the firm as an associate on the Software and Electrical Engineering Team in the internationally recognized Intellectual Property Department.

Mr. Mao focuses his practice on patent preparation, prosecution, and related counseling with a concentration in the semiconductor industry. Prior to joining private practice, Mr. Mao served as an Analysis Engineer with Samsung Semiconductor.

Mr. Mao earned a J.D., from University of Houston Law Center. He received his B.S., in Electrical Engineering, from the University of Texas, Austin.

Follow the firm on Twitter: @KTS_Law.

###