

Insights: Publications

Understanding EU's AI Act and its Enforcement Mechanisms

Law360

September 22, 2023

Written by

Until recently, businesses have employed artificial intelligence technology with few restrictions because AI has remained largely unregulated.

However, on June 14, the European Parliament — the main legislative branch of the European Union — passed a draft version of the Artificial Intelligence Act that would constitute the first major legislation to regulate AI.

To read the full article, click here.

Kilpatrick Townsend – Generative AI

Kilpatrick Townsend's Generative AI practice works with clients to tackle their most pressing AI concerns and challenges to achieve results in line with overall business strategies and goals. Our multidisciplinary team, with backgrounds in intellectual property, privacy, federal regulation and legislation, commercial transactions, and dispute resolution, monitors and proactively addresses risks, compliance requirements, and opportunities related to generative AI. For more information, please visit our website – Generative AI \(kilpatricktownsend.com\)