Kilpatrick Partner Allen Garrett was recently quoted by ALM | Law.com for their article titled, "Will 7th Circuit Ruling Make Mass Arbitrations 'Too Onerous' for Plaintiffs Firms?"

"If the claimants actually have to document arbitration agreements or at least submit declarations confirming their status as customers that would have agreed to arbitration agreements, that makes it much more difficult for mass arbitration claimants counsel to quickly amass an enormous group of legitimate claimants and thereby saddle the business respondent with massive initial filing fees."
