July 25, 2024

Written by Michele Floyd

This practice note explains the statutory requirements for class certification pursuant to Rule 23(a) and Rule 23(b) as they apply in antitrust litigation. For a more comprehensive list of related antitrust litigation content, see Antitrust Litigation Resource Kit (Federal). Another useful and detailed examination of class certification and related case law is The Revolution in the Law and Economics of Antitrust Class Certification. Note that certification standards changed significantly starting in 2013 and certain issues are evolving circuit by circuit, so rely on pre-2013 cases with caution and always check the current state of the law in your circuit.
