Kasey Christie is a registered patent attorney who focuses his practice on patent preparation, prosecution, and related counseling. He has spent more than 25 years in the electrical and computer arts, and his degree in computer engineering gives him the technical fluency to draft claims that survive prosecution and hold up under scrutiny.

Before joining the firm, Kasey served in-house as senior IP counsel and as Associate General Counsel at various technology companies, co-founded one such company, ran his own IP law practice as founder, and was a partner and patent practice leader of a national IP law firm.

Kasey has prepared and prosecuted hundreds of U.S. patent applications for clients ranging from startups to the Fortune 500. He has crafted original patent applications and prosecuted inventions in fields such as LLMs, gen AI, ML, computer vision and neural networks, semiconductors and integrated circuits, wireless communications, medical devices, operating systems, haptics, memory and power-management architectures, cybersecurity, and cloud and distributed computing.

Kasey is a named inventor on multiple issued U.S. patents. Super Lawyers named him a Rising Star for IP in 2013.

Outside his practice, Kasey is co-owner, executive producer, and a performer with ComedySportz, the improv comedy company, where he has been making audiences laugh since 1996. He's also a committed gym rat who's never happier than on deadlift day, chalk on his hands and a loaded bar at his feet.
