Kilpatrick Townsend Adds Attorney Sarah Parker to Firm's Atlanta Office

AUGUST 29, 2016

ATLANTA (August 29) – Kilpatrick Townsend announced today the addition of Sarah Parker to the firm's Atlanta office. Ms. Parker joins the firm as an associate on the Global Sourcing and Technology Team in the firm's Corporate, Finance & Real Estate Department. Ms. Parker's addition continues the firm's expansion of the Global Sourcing and Technology Team, with the recent additions of Michelle Tyde, Kimberly Scott, and Brooke McGuffey.

Ms. Parker focuses her practice on information technology, outsourcing agreements, technology licensing and support, systems integration, managed network services, software licensing and support, and software as a service transactions, electronic commerce arrangements, and other similar commercial transactions.

Prior to joining the firm, Ms. Parker was an associate in the Atlanta office of a national law firm where she advised public and private corporate clients in complex business transactions including mergers, acquisitions, financing arrangements, and securities. She also guided clients through general governance and formation matters and drafted, reviewed, and negotiated a wide variety of commercial contracts.

Prior to launching her legal career, Ms. Parker reported and produced for CNN's Political Unit in Washington, D.C. She covered Congress and the White House for CNN.com including reporting on the 2008 Presidential election and produced and edited The Situation Room with Wolf Blitzer podcast. Previously, Ms. Parker served as an intern in the Office of Senate Majority Leader William H. Frist, M.D. in Nashville, Tennessee.

Ms. Parker earned her J.D. from the University of South Carolina School of Law, cum laude, where she served as the Associate Editor-in-Chief of the American Bar Association Real Property, Trust & Estates Law Journal, and was inducted into the Phi Delta Phi international legal honor society. She received her B.S. in Political Science from Vanderbilt University, cum laude.
