Kilpatrick Townsend's Joe Dowdy Quoted by The Recorder re: "9th Circuit, Citing 'Spokeo', Upholds Dismissal of Case Over Exposure of Credit Card Data"

February 23, 2018

A man whose parking receipt exposed the full expiration date of his credit card lacked standing to sue over the data leak, a federal appeals court ruled in February 2017, providing new case law in the wake of the U.S. Supreme Court's Spokeo v. Robins decision. Click here to read Kilpatrick Townsend partner Joe Dowdy's insight on the case in The Recorder.
