Kilpatrick

Insights: Publications

Bankruptcy Fraud, which lessened during the pandemic, could increase this year

Fraud Magazine

May 31, 2022

Written by Eric S. Rein

U.S. bankruptcies — and bankruptcy fraud — greatly decreased during the pandemic because of temporary lifelines. But as government stimulus, pliant lenders, and cheap and easy funding dissipates, we're seeing crimes rise. Changes in U.S. federal bankruptcy law could accelerate prosecution of bankruptcy fraud.

Related People

Eric S. Rein

t 312.606.3227

rrein@ktslaw.com