

Insights: Publications

Communicating with Putative Class Members Prior to Class Certification: Important Reminders (or New Lessons) for Federal Court Practice

JD Supra

December 22, 2017

Written by Chad D. Hansen

Many class actions are won or lost at the class certification stage. Because FRCP 23(c) requires a district court to determine whether a class action is to be maintained (i.e., certified) “[a]t an early practicable time after a person sues,” both sides often engage in a flurry of activity to gather evidence either to support or oppose class certification. Frequently, this involves communication with potential class members.

To view the full article, please click here.

Related People

Chad D. Hansen

t 336.607.7308

chadhansen@ktslaw.com