

Insights: Publications

Why Attorneys Should Consider Community Leadership Roles

Law360

September 6, 2024

Written by Katherine A. Beacham

Law360 (September 5) - Community leadership is a career development and well-being tool sometimes overlooked by attorneys, especially during early career stages.

Meanwhile, many senior leaders at firms and corporations display nonprofit board and civic leadership positions on their resumes, showcasing growth in community responsibility and visibility throughout their careers.

Exploring causes and nonprofits to engage with through volunteering and board service early on can support a lifelong legal career of achievement and purpose.

Read Katie's full article here.

Related People

Katherine A. Beacham

t 404.815.6628

kbeacham@ktslaw.com