

Insights: Publications

Pitfalls To Avoid When Drafting And Enforcing NDAs

Law360

June 4, 2021

Written by Sonia Baldia

Although seemingly commonplace, nondisclosure agreements have been subject to increasing litigation in recent years. Businesses often default to using boilerplate NDAs without careful consideration of the specific business purpose or the transaction risk at hand, which can lead to challenges in court and detrimental outcomes, including loss of protection for valuable information or undue restrictions on the recipient's ability to pursue business interests.

Related People

Sonia Baldia

t 202.508.5840

sbaldia@ktslaw.com