Insights: Publications

Trends That Tech Lawyers Should Keep an Eye on in 2024

Law360

JANUARY 12, 2024 Written by Sonia Baldia

Law360 (January 11) -- 2023 was a notable year for technology, although not as notable as some may have anticipated.

And for IT lawyers, the technology spending for IT services and software in corporate America remained buoyant, despite the downdraft of the Federal Reserve's sharp interest rate increases against stubborn inflation injecting caution into markets and budgets. This left many businesses shifting focus from greenfield investments in next-generation technologies to cost savings and revenue growth through operational efficiency.

To read more, click here.

Related People

Sonia Baldia
t 202.508.5840
sbaldia@ktslaw.com