Eben Allen focuses his practice on patent law for clients in the mechanical and medical device industries. Eben is experienced in preparing patent applications, prosecuting applications at the USPTO, coordinating patent prosecution abroad in foreign jurisdictions, and counseling clients on patentability, freedom to operate, and their other patent issues.

Eben's practice includes utility patent and design patent work in a wide variety of technologies, including tactical gear (e.g., equipment for use by military, militia, or law enforcement personnel), camping equipment, outdoor and sporting goods, knives, datacenter infrastructure, HVAC and thermal load management, warehouse management and automation, order fulfillment logistics, robotics, 3D printing, aerospace, oilfield drilling and related services, consumer machinery and products, manufacturing machinery and processes, textiles, footwear, garments, buckles and other attachment systems, construction tools, retail infrastructure, clean energy, storm drainage, cushions, boats, surgical implants and methodology, and other mechanical and medical devices and the controllers for such devices.

Eben is actively involved in pro bono work. He works with pro bono clients in a variety of matters, including immigration work (e.g., Temporary Protected Status (TPS), U-Visa, and asylum cases). He has volunteered frequently at legal clinics including at an organization that focuses on serving the local homeless population and another that focuses on serving the local Latino population. In addition to his pro bono work, he also devotes a significant amount of time to his community in the Rainier Beach neighborhood in the southern area of Seattle.

Eben was recognized in the 2026 listing and the five years immediately preceding as one of the "Best Lawyers: Ones to Watch" for Intellectual Property Law by The Best Lawyers in America®. He was also recognized as a Washington "Rising Star" in 2023 and 2024 for Intellectual Property by Super Lawyers magazine.

Eben is fluent in Spanish.
