February 10, 2026

Law360 -- Kilpatrick Townsend & Stockton LLP has expanded its trademark, copyright and advertising team with two Perkins Coie LLP attorneys, including the former firmwide trademark, copyright, internet and advertising practice group chair.

Partner Thomas Holt and Counsel Jeremy Buxbaum are based in Chicago, the firm said in a Monday announcement. They have practiced together for nearly 11 years, representing clients in intellectual property brand protection and enforcement matters.

"Kilpatrick has long been viewed as one of the premier trademark and copyright practices in the country, and the firm's commitment to sophisticated brand protection work was a major draw for me," Holt told Law360 Pulse in an email Tuesday. "My practice combines high-stakes litigation with day-to-day counseling, and Kilpatrick's depth allows me to do both at a very high level."
