Insights: Publications

PE Funds Buying Distressed Debt

Oil & Gas Financial Journal

JUNE 9, 2016 Written by Michele J. Alexander

Private equity (PE) firms were actively acquiring distressed debt from highly leveraged oil and gas companies amid persistently low oil prices. While oil prices had rebounded from earlier 2016 lows, the underlying weakness in the sector kept many issuers' debt trading at distressed levels.

Related People

Michele J. Alexander
t 212.775.8784
mjalexander@ktslaw.com