

Insights: Publications

The Presumption of Irreparable Harm After the Trademark Modernization Act Of 2020: The Good, the Bad and the Ugly

LJN Intellectual Property Strategist

October 1, 2023

Written by Christopher P. Bussert

This article explores developments (both positive and negative) in the post-TMA world in which courts have wrestled with implementation of the presumption of irreparable harm in trademark cases.

Related People

Christopher P. Bussert

t 404.815.6545

cbussert@ktslaw.com