Marc Williams has more than two decades of experience advising regional and community banks, bank boards, and financial services companies on regulatory, transactional, enforcement, and governance matters. His practice is built around deep, trusted relationships with financial institutions and their boards, including community and regional banks, bank holding companies, fintechs, and specialty lenders. Marc delivers business-oriented counsel across the financial institution spectrum: federal and state banking regulation, compliance and enforcement, chartering, change in control, third-party vendor relationships, executive compensation, board advisory, and complex lending and commercial finance. He also supports these clients in M&A, capital markets, and corporate governance.

Prior to joining the firm, Marc was a shareholder in the Los Angeles, Seattle, Portland, and Salt Lake City offices of a full-service business law firm where he was a financial institution and corporate finance attorney with more than two decades of experience advising regional and community banks, bank boards, and financial services companies on regulatory, transactional, enforcement, and governance matters. Previously, Marc served as a partner and Chair of the Securities and Corporate Finance Practice Group at a nationally recognized law firm headquartered in Seattle.

Marc is a former United States Marine and United States Naval Flight Officer.

Marc was recognized as one of “America’s Leading Lawyers for Business” in Corporate/Commercial (Washington) by Chambers USA (2010-2019). He has been listed in The Best Lawyers in America® for Securities Law/Capital Markets Law since 2013 and is AV Rated® by Martindale-Hubbell®.
