

Insights: Publications

What to know about The Copyright Office's new 'AI Initiative'

The Trademark Lawyer

April 27, 2023

Written by Megan P. Fitzgerald

The United States Copyright Office recently launched its "Artificial Intelligence Initiative," set to "examine the copyright law and policy issues raised by artificial intelligence." The initiative comes as a "direct response" to "striking advances in generative AI technologies and their rapidly growing use by individuals and businesses."

Related People

Megan P. Fitzgerald

t 212.775.8777

mfitzgerald@ktslaw.com